

The next edition of DREMA and FURNICA fairs: 13-16 April 2010

DREMA in 2010

On 13 -16 April 2010, the 26th edition of DREMA International Trade Fair of Machines and Tools for Wood and Furniture Industries will be held in Poznań. This prestigious event organised under a slogan "Technologies of tomorrow" will give insight into cutting-edge solutions on the market.

European-scale discussion

The upcoming edition of the fair will host the 4th Economic Forum of the Polish Wood and Furniture Industry POLWOOD. Attracting representatives of leading woodworking companies and industry circles, the forum will address the sawmill and furniture industries, revolving around the issues related to chief challenges for the industry and its development paths. The position of the Polish wood and furniture industry in the European Union will also make a central topic. Representatives of main industry organisations from abroad and journalists of industry media from Poland and abroad will be invited to this meeting.

Live production you have never seen before

Live Furniture Factory is a special presentation space that combines the spheres of interest of visitors of the DREMA fair and FURNICA International Trade Fair of Components for Furniture Production held concurrently. This live, full-scale machinery will produce upholstered furniture that boasts interesting design using cutting-edge technology and materials. The Department of Furniture Design of the Poznań University of Life Sciences will supervise this interesting but logistically difficult undertaking. The Factory will not only provide information about technological nuances, but also integrate the student community: the future staff of the furniture industry.

DREMA for sawmill industry

The sawmill sector is a crucial part of the woodworking industry, and the DREMA fair will feature events addressed to professionals from this very sector. These will among others include the „Cutting-edge technologies for sawmill industry" seminar attended by invited companies and partners from research milieus and presenting the most interesting solutions to streamline production in small, medium and large sawmills. The organisers are hoping for high turnout from companies interested in long-term business development based on economic and safe production methods.

How to save energy?

Timber has an exceptional potential in terms of energy generation. The woodworking and furniture industry is the main producer of this 'eco-fuel' that is not only used as a source of heat for woodworking companies, but is becoming an increasingly valuable commodity on the market of recipients from the WBP industry and individual clients. Issues of wood waste management will dominate the „Save Energy - Central European Forum of Waste Management in Wood and Furniture Industry". Entities looking for modern solutions that meet the demands of today and enhance efficiency are bound to be interested in this meeting.

European Island of Associations

The international format of the DREMA fair will be confirmed at the European Island of Associations. It will be attended by leading industry organisations from Poland and abroad, which will facilitate establishing many interesting contacts and gaining industry insight in global terms.
